Altizer's Costly Carelessness,

The Lengthy Altizer must be charged with the defeat. It was his wild heave to Hickman in the ninth inning that gave the Naps the chance to win. Hinchman grounded to him, and he had plenty of time to throw him out, but he head. Birmingham thought the hit was chucked the ball low. Turner beat a safe, and had turned second for third, daily with us and hopes to get into bunt that would have been a sure out forcing an easy double play at first. had not Hinchman been on base and Thielman sacrificed. Then Flick came along with a single, a short fly to left that Anderson could not quite reach, and the Naps scored the winning run.

The all-star of the contest was Flick.

It was his work that enabled the Larrupers to win, he being responsible for four of their tallies. His triple drove in two runs, and he scored himself later with the deciding run on Bradley's single.

Hickman shone, too, his great stop of Clarke's terrific grounder in the fourth inning, when Lajoie, was on second by virtue of a hit and a steal, cut off a run. Altizer played a nice game and Smith fielded his position exceedingly well.

Nationals Start Well.

The Nationals counted in the first Ganley singled and stole, and after Jones walked and Cross sacrificed, he scored on Hickman's out,

Two more were added in the third. Ganley showed that a bunt could be beaten, and Jones again took exercise. Cross sacrificed, and when Hickman's prolonged fly went to Hinchman, Ganley and Jones scored, the latter from second base, one of the most daring bits of baseball running ever seen here.

Rhoades was erased after Anderson's double in the fourth, and Thielman was inserted. He succeeded in retiring the Farland, following Quillen's single, in side without damage. He was scored the last inning, put Boston out of busi-against though in the sixth when ness this afternoon. Score:

Tells Cantillon Player Should Not Be Interfered With.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, May 18.—Washmgton made its debut here today under the impresarioship of Joe Cantillon by hands on the ball while on the dead run.

Direct Issue With Johnson.

> CLEVELAND, Ohio, May 18 .- Joe Cantillon, manager of the Washington Nationals today received a telegram from August Herrman, president of the national commission, in which he intimated that Mike Kelly, former American Association manager, would be declared a free agent by that body. Cantillon, when seen tonight at the Altizer, in the second, raced out to sage means, I take it, that Keny was short left, and pulled in Hinchman's be held by the commission as a free agent and will be at liberty to sign agent and will be at liberty to sign condition soon. Until he rounds to, I cannot say whether I shall play him at first base or make him manager of my Des Moines club."

St. Louis claimed Kelly this season following his trouble in the American Association, and Washington closed a deal with McAleer for him. If Mike is declared a free agent, St. Louis will get nothing for him despite the fact that the Nationals are said to be ready o pay $1,500 for him.

Cantillon coached. His voice sounded like a catch-as-catch-can convention of the first in parting. In fact, they were enjoyed. In order that his voice may not meet with interference, he amputated his famed sable moustache and his facial contour is now like that of a harvest moon. His advent enlivened matters considerably.

WINS GAME

Middies by a Strong Finish.

NEW YORK, May 18,-The West Point cadets are wild with joy tonight because of the victory over the middles here today by 6 to 5. The victory is more than anyone expected, as the soldiers came to the bat in the pinth inning with the score 5 to 3 against them. Scoring three runs in the first inning, West Point had sat through the game and watched their invincible heavers hammered for hits, the navy scoring five runs up to the seventh, while the best the army could do was to get one man to third. It didn't look as if there was a chance on earth for them to win, but the Cadets, forming a solid bank of gray along the first base line, never let up their cheering and calling for their team to "eat 'em up." Mountford led off in the ninth with a hit, which he just beat to first by diving head first, cutting his finger in the effort. Hausen took his place. John-ston followed with a hard one to Lamphier, who tried to catch his man at second, but Bacon dropped the ball. Bonesteel struck out.

Haverkamp was tried at the bat in place of Meredith, and the change proved a good one, for he hit safely, and filled the bases. If the cadets were wild before, they were raving mad now as Groniger stepped up and landed out a hit that scored Hansen. Johnson was caught off third.

The excitement was intense, and the cheer leader ordered every man to his solid patch of gray grouped on the cadet stand, Captain Pritchett faced cadet stand, Captain Pritchett faced Lamphier for his last trial. With two out, one run would the and two runs win the game for the army! The little captain of the cadets selected a pretty one, and met it fairly on the nose, sent a long hit to center, and things became busy on the bases. Haverkamp came tearing in, and Battle threw the ball toward home. The ball struck in front of the plate and bounded past Hambach, and Groniger galloped in with the winning run. With victory almost in their grasp, and after having played the better game, the middles felt their defeat keenly.

NAVY CREW WINS FROM COLUMBIA BY 12 LENGTHS

Cadets Triumph Over Middies Lead From Start and Easily Meet Des perate Spurts-Coach Glendon Thinks They'll Be As Good at Four Miles.

> ANNAPOLIS, Md., May 18.-In a just as good for double the distance. HI splendidly contested race of two miles, is confident he can turn the trick. rowed on the Severn this afternoon, the Naval Academy crew won from Columbia University by a length and a half. The winning time was 10 minutes 33 seconds, and that of the losers 10 minutes 38 seconds.

The midshipmen got the jump on their opponents at the start and were slightly over a length in the lead a quarter of a mile from the beginning. From that point to the half mile Columbia pulled up and almost pushed her boat even at times, but the terrific stroke of Navy wore down the New Yorkers and they lost distance slowly but stead ily from that point to the finish.

Poughkeepsie Outlook Bright. Conditions were excellent for the race

Though there was some wind blowing up the course which lowered the time, yet the sea was smooth and neither crew Among the spectators was Duka had trouble on account of shipping D'Abrezzi, who, accompanied by Capt lofty Severn hills, and for most of the distance the water was ideal. In the last third the course is more expected. last third the course is more exposed, and there was some roughness, but not enough to interfere with the clean watermanship of both crews.

Special interest was taken in today's race because the Navy crew has announced that it would enter the Poughkeepsle regatta. As Columbia would be one of its opponents in the big race and has already shown its strength by defeating Harvard, today's contest was regarded in the nature of a test of the middles' chances for making a good showing or 'not. It is now established that the Navy has a mighty crew for a two-mile race, and Coach Glendon's efforts will now be devoted to making it men Coffman and Gillmore.

At the start this afternoon, the Navy, with the outside course, started with thirty-five strokes to the minute, the visitors taking about three less in the same time. Navy jumped to the front almost at once and increased its lead or 200 yards until clear water began to show between the boats. From this point until after the first mile passed Columbia not only held her own, but pushed the nose of her boat up ead. Then Navy hit its stroke up to thirty-seven, pushed its boat until it was again a length to the good, then settled back to thirty-five. Two bun-dred yards from the finish the Navy crew again raised the stroke, finishing strongly a length and a half ahead. Columbia rowed most gamely, but was not The course is sheltered by the George P. Colvocoreses, saw the race
